Class Level Definitions

Rest and be Thankful: For those who are no longer able to sustain the challenge of the compulsory morning classes but may participate in the afternoon and evening activities.

Low Impact: For dancers with a good knowledge of steps and formations who would like a relaxed class with interesting dances.

Intermediate: For those early in their dancing journey who would like to improve all aspects of technique. The class will focus on foot work, use of hands, phrasing and knowledge of formations.

Advanced: For experienced dancers who are proficient in all areas of technique, with a very good knowledge of steps and formations. This class is for dancers who wish to improve all aspects of their performance. A good level of energy is required for the duration of the class.

Very Advanced: For dancers who can perform at a very high level and who wish to be challenged further. This is a high impact physically demanding class and a very good level of physical fitness will be required.

The organisers of the school will endeavour to place you in the class of your preference but reserve the right to change classes based on numbers.

ROYAL SCOTTISH COUNTRY DANCE SOCIETY

WESTERN AUSTRALIA BRANCH INC

The RSCDS Western Australia Branch invites dancers to join them at Muresk Institute in the Avon Valley, 96km east of Perth.

Muresk Institute derives its name from the Dempsters of Muresk in Scotland who settled in this area in the 19th century.

The Institute offers excellent single rooms in recently refurbished accommodation. Dempster House, where all meals are served, is a State Heritage listed Federation style homestead built in 1891.

The town of Northam, seven kilometres away, contains many fine examples of 19th century architecture and is the home of hot air ballooning in Western Australia. In spring this area on the edge of the WA Wheatbelt is renowned for its wildflowers and birdlife.
